Pressure By England and France May Mean Retirement of Cabinet

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(UP)—Former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall must go to jail or obtain clemency from President Hoover.

Justice Jennings Bailey in District of Columbia Supreme Court today denied a motion to suspend the aged man's sentence for bribery. Bailey said the question of suspension was one for the executive branch of the government "and not for this court to determine."

Such a revision of the sentence would require making Fall's prison term one year and one day instead of one year. That would bring him under parole laws, attorneys said they believed, enabling him to apply for parole in four months. Under a year sentence served in the District of Columbia jail he would have to serve at least 10 months, they said.

Also, according to attorneys, if Fall is sentenced to a year and a day, he will automatically lose his day.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—(UP)—Thousands of delegates from all parts of the world gathered in San Francisco today for the opening of the 50th international Christian Endeavor society convention tonight.

In charge of the gathering was Dr. Daniel A. Poling of Los Angeles, international president, who sounded the keynote at a pre-convention banquet with a challenge that "prohibition at its worst is better than the 'good old days'."

Dr. Poling will address the delegates tonight and will be followed by Gov. James Rolph Jr., of California, Dr. William Hiram Foulkes of Old First Church of Newark, N. J., and Paul Shoup, general chairman of the local convention committee.

Approximately 14,000 are expected to attend all-day sessions Sunday. Dr. Mark A. Matthews of Seattle, Col. Raymond Robbins of Chicago and Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the federal appellate court, former secretary of the navy, will speak.

One of the largest groups of delegates was from Los Angeles and included Mrs. Francis E. Clark, "mother" of Christian Endeavor.

In addressing the banquet, Dr. Poling cited the need for a "fight for prohibition enforcement, that it be constantly improved."

"Christianity now has its supreme opportunity to begin to dig out from under the wild dissipation of the olden days," he said. "The world is tired and worn from wars and post-war inflations and depressions. We are looking to youth for a return to a saner social and economic manner of living."

GASOLINE WAR IN NORTH SOON WILL BE ENDED

Believed Refiners to Meet Demand of Retailers For More Margin

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—(UP)—Independent service station dealers were hopeful today that the latest flareup of the "gas war" would be settled by next Monday with an agreement of refiners to a four cent differential for retailers.

Claiming the existing differential of three cents prevented them from making a profit, a majority of independent station operators have posted prices of 14 and 15 cents a gallon, as compared with 16 1/2 cents asked by the major companies.

Joseph Devenenz, president of the retail service station dealers' association, explained that the operators made even less profit at the reduced price but that increased sales volume "at least makes it pay."

"We are looking for the companies to allow us a four cent differential Monday, and if they do we will go back to 16 1/2 cents," Devenenz said. "If not, our prices will stay as they are."

SAN DIEGO MAN MAY SUCCEED CARNAHAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—(UP)—Rumors were current today that Godfrey L. Strobeck, San Diego banker, will succeed H. L. Carnahan as state building and loan commissioner when Strobeck passed through here en route to a conference with Governor Rolph.

"I have not talked with the governor or communicated with him but I understand some influential friends of mine have advanced my name," Strobeck said before leaving for Sacramento.

Carnahan accepted the appointment last January with the proviso that he would remain only until the new building and loan code he sponsored became effective. This takes place August 14.

CITY ATTORNEY ADVISES COUNCIL TO REPEAL, AT ONCE, SLOT MACHINE LAW

To the City Council, Santa Ana, Calif. Gentlemen:
At the meeting of your Honorable Body on July 6th I was requested to give a legal opinion pertaining to the maintenance and operation of slot machines in this city, and make recommendations for the elimination of said slot machines in a legal and orderly manner. On account of the many involved legal questions entailed, I asked and was granted two weeks within which to study this matter and make written report to the Council.

HOOVER PLANS NO CENSORSHIP FOR REPORTERS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(UP)—Suggestions that President Hoover is attempting to establish censorship over White House news are refuted in an authoritative explanation to the United Press.

President Hoover has issued word that it is his desire that all news from the White House come from an official source. This would be either himself or one of his secretaries, usually Theodore G. Joslin, who has charge of press relations. Mr. Hoover's purpose is explained to be that of any executive in such matters. He does not desire employees on his staff to give out unauthorized information which he does not choose to make public.

I am convinced and it is my opinion that the Ordinance licensing slot machines in this City is illegal and void and in contravention of Section 330a of the Penal Code of the State of California, and that the maintenance and operation of said slot machines violate said Section 330a of the Penal Code of this state.

DEATH KNELL SOUNDED AT MASS MEET

More Than 500 Public Spirited Citizens Gather to Protest Gambling OFFICIALS CONCUR
City and County Authorities Are Prepared to Do Duty, They Declare
THE DEATH KNELL of slot machine gambling was sounded last night.

Open gambling in some 500 business places of Santa Ana and Orange county, under protection of officials and contrary to law, is going to stop. Slot machines, which it is estimated take out of the county over $1,000,000 yearly, are doomed.

The long arm of public opinion and decency has reached out and pulled the lever, but this lever is one which turns on the bright light of truth and under this glare the phantom of protection under ordinances as illegal as slot machines themselves has vanished and gambling machines are exposed.

This fact developed last night at an enthusiastic meeting in the Church of the Nazarene attended by more than 500 public-spirited citizens, at which blow after blow from various speakers shattered the illusion that slot machines are protected by law and laid them bare as illegal gambling devices.

City Attorney Clyde Downing has declared the money-consuming devices outside the law and recommends that the ordinance licensing them be repealed and the machines be eliminated at once.

District Attorney Sam L. Collins has concurred in this opinion and assured Downing of the fullest cooperation in enforcing violations of this law.

His own employees from talking about the president's affairs, but there will be no attempt to control the newspaper correspondents, to censor what they write, or to require that copy be submitted for approval.

The situation is one easily misunderstood and easily subjected to various interpretations intentionally or otherwise. It has been an American tradition from the time of Jefferson that nothing is more important in a democracy than a free press. Any action which might run counter to this tradition in peace time would be expected to provoke much distrust and criticism.

Press Important

Few presidents have attached more importance to the press than President Hoover. His war time food administration was successful in part because of the co-operation of the press.

Feeling came to a climax this week when Mr. Hoover directed an investigation of the White House staff and the secret service to ascertain where some correspondents obtained certain facts. Dispatches objected to included some which Mr. Hoover is understood to regard as trivial. He is not concerned, it is said, that the public should know that when he tried to take an afternoon nap for the first time in months a carpenter began to hammer and make him up. He sees the humor in that. He objected to a dispatch which implied he was speeding on a trip from Rapidan camp. He is concerned that such information should be revealed by White House attaches. He fears that sometime important information might slip out in the same way and do serious harm in some quarters.

Child's Bank Is Taken by Thieves

Burglars who entered the home of Ben Patton, 1018 West Walnut street some time yesterday, while members of the family were away from home, ransacked the entire house but took nothing but a child's bank, which contained $7, according to a report filed with the city police.

Entrance was made to the house after a screen had been fastened on a rear door, it was reported.

Hot Remarks Aimed At Evil, by Hanson

Ole Hanson, of San Clemente, was continually dropping pithy remarks at last night's slot machine meeting at the Church of the Nazarene. Here are a few of the more striking ones:

"Let us make Orange county as good a place to raise children as it is to raise oranges."

"A crank is a man who objects to legalized theft."

"The child who becomes familiar with miniature Tia Juana in Santa Ana is not getting a square break."

"Robin Hood robbed strangers and gave to his friends. We rob our friends and give to the stranger."

STANDARD OIL PLANNING HUGE AD CAMPAIGN

A $200,000 newspaper advertising campaign will be started immediately by the Standard Oil company, it was revealed today by D. O. Rice, special agent for the company, who is located in Santa Ana. This move is being taken by the Standard Oil company in the belief that in realization of the business conditions at the present time it is far better to boost business by appealing to the public through effective means, Rice declared.

First experience shows that an appeal to the public through the medium of the newspapers brings definite returns, Rice declared, in speaking of the money to be spent in newspaper advertising, and that there is no better medium for publicity than through newspapers. The announcement that the company would spend the huge sum of money in newspaper display advertising follows the trial of various other types of advertising made by the company.

The Standard Oil company operates 25 of the 116 service stations in Santa Ana. The wholesale plant is located at 1218 Santiago, where gasoline and oil are stored in bulk and distributed to the retail and wholesale trade. Between 60,000 and 70,000 gallons of gasoline are constantly on hand at the plant. Six trucks are used to distribute the gasoline and oil.

DEATH KNELL SOUNDED AT MASS MEETING

who votes for an ordinance pretending to give the right to carry on operations prohibited by this section, is guilty of a felony and can be sent to the penitentiary.

There, in these laws, these opinions and pledges of co-operation to oust the slot machines, are the reasons why they are doomed in Orange county. Wherever district attorneys and city attorneys have declared them illegal—in Huntington Beach, in Los Angeles—they have simply faded out of the picture without a struggle.

Downing, in his opinion, said he was so impressed with the seriousness of the situation that he felt his opinion and recommendation, as asked by the city council, should be placed in its hands at once.

"I am convinced that the ordinance licensing slot machines in this city is illegal and void . . . and that the maintenance and operation of said slot machines violate said section 330a of the penal code of this state," Downing's opinion said, concluding with the recommendation that they be eliminated at once.

Following the addresses, R. R. Lutes, chairman, and executive secretary of the Orange County Law Enforcement league, appointed a resolutions committee, composed of Dr. George A. Warner, chairman, Hugh Gerard and Mrs. Amy Evans, president of the Santa Ana W. C. T. U. This committee reported three resolutions, which were unanimously adopted by the gathering, thanking Ole Hanson, of San Clemente, for calling the slot machine situation to the public's attention; commending The Register and J. F. Burke for disseminating information regarding slot machines and the campaign against them; and commending City Attorney Downing and District Attorney Collins for the stand they have taken.

Developments last night and addresses by the speakers showed that public opinion can get just what is right, if it persists. If it decides slot machines must be "exterminated" that is just what will happen. Ole Hanson, in his colorful talk on the subject, "Thou Shalt Not Steal," pierced the hubbub of law protection and showed the inconsistency of slot machines.

"Rob Our Friends"

"Robin Hood robbed the stranger and gave the loot to his friends. We rob our friends and give to the stranger," he declared, in contending that slot machines are a "steal" and that a large slice of the profit goes to a couple of men living in a palatial home on Wilshire boulevard, "who toll not, neither do they spin."

"If being decent and fair to one's fellow citizens is to be a long hair, then I am all seven of the Sutherland sisters," he said. He ridiculed the $320 "cut" in license fees which the city gets, while thousands of dollars go out of the community. If you will give the owners of Agua Caliente the slot machine and punch board privileges in five southern counties for three years without tax or police interference, "I'll get you a deed to every building in their plant down in Mexico," he declared.

"A deadened public opinion has allowed these devices to operate in the light of day. By gambling we lose both our time and money. By putting part of the stealings in the public till all taxpayers are receivers of stolen property, I do not want that kind of money. In Santa Ana some of our citizens allow these gambling devices to operate in their stores and after they return from prayer meeting, count the nickels with gusto."

"The best city is not the largest or the richest. The best city is that community where most is done to make it clean, decent and prosperous, where most is done to build men and women."

"Not Square Break"

"The child who becomes familiar with miniature Tia Juana in Santa Ana is not getting a square break."

"In the bad, big town of Los Angeles you must go up a darkened alley, climb a pair of steps and give a peculiar knock in order to make it in our Bible Belt we run the games in the show window, lighted by electricity under police protection."

"If you want slot machines and punch boards to run in your city and county, let's print on Chamber of Commerce literature these words: 'Open gambling with slot machines and punch boards everywhere. Eighty-three places alone in Santa Ana. No fear of arrest. No dark alley entrance. Our gambling machines are placed in our best stores, all well lighted. If anyone interferes with your enjoyment, just call a policeman.'"

"The real fault at San Clemente was mine. I paid no attention. The real fault in Santa Ana was yours. You were busy. You paid no attention."

"Your beautiful county is the garden spot of the world. If you don't get busy and clean up, your good name will be besmirched. With water and brains and trees and flowers you have built a paradise."

"Let us make Orange county as good a place to raise children as it is to raise oranges. Let us raise no culcs. Let us clean up the scale and the smut and rest assured we all will profit thereby."

Opened With Prayer

The meeting was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, who appealed to God for courage in the hearts of Orange county officials and leaders to remove the temptation of gambling from the boys and girls.

Harry Westover, Santa Ana attorney, gave an address on the economics of gambling. W. M. Burke spoke on legal aspects of the slot machine situation, quoting the district court of appeals decision against slot machines. Their addresses will be found elsewhere in this edition of The Register.

Mrs. Roy Beall, president of the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers, declared that women of that organization feel that the law must be enforced. "Don't forget that parents and teachers are always there to back up law enforcement," she said.

In a stirring talk, J. F. Burke declared that slot machines exist not by virtue of law but by virtue of officers who give opinions about the law. The people in the last decade have O. K'd officials who have approved slot machines, he said.

"You are getting rid of slot machines when you get rid of legal advisors who have approved them." Obligation on Chief

"Not only does the obligation rest on the chief of police to go out and bring in operators of slot machines. If I were the sheriff and his helpers I'd see that all others outside the city of Santa Ana were brought in."

"Why must there be a cut to outside men if the devices are legitimate? Is it that business men must pay that 60 per cent cut in order to have ordinances on the books licensing the machines?"

"Thank God, Mr. Collins came out square on the matter. I may have misjudged him in the past but I want to commend him for his stand now. I'll bet the sheriff is glad the thing has been decided this way and I believe mothers and fathers are glad the temptation is removed."

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read to the group the recent resolution passed by the Ministerial association, commending the city council and city attorney for their stand in seeking to eliminate slot machines here.

The last words at the meeting were spoken by the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, who pronounced the benediction.

THREE DIVORCES GRANTED FRIDAY

Three divorces were granted by Judge G. K. Scovel in the superior court Friday afternoon. Lillian M. Christianson was granted a divorce from Christensen on a plea of extreme cruelty. They were married in 1924 and separated in 1929.

L. V. Phillips was granted a divorce from Maude E. Phillips on grounds of desertion. They were married in 1922 and separated in 1929.

John T. Wilbur was given a divorce decree from Ruth E. Wilbur on grounds of extreme cruelty and was awarded the custody of a minor child. They were married in 1923 and separated in 1930.

Design secretary, was understood to have suggested shelving of the battleship building program, but he has refrained from making the proposal of this or abandonment of the customs union project as condition to extension of German credits.

The amount of the credit which Dr. Luther requested was $200,000,000. It was authoritatively learned today.

Withdrawals of foreign credits from Germany were resumed today, totaling over $30,000,000 marks.

It was confirmed that the federal reserve bank had indicated that participation by the United States banks in a rediscount credit for Germany was dependent upon adoption of stern measures here to halt the flight of German capital abroad. This would mean not only the Reichsbank's enforcement of an even sharper credit restriction than is now in force, but also perhaps legislative measures in the form of a new Hindenburg emergency decree restraining export of German capital.

Fall's attorney, Frank Hogan, immediately wired Fall's physicians in El Paso, asking them to advise Fall of the court's action and notify him as to Fall's desires in the matter of revision of the sentence.

Fall was convicted of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, Los Angeles oil operator. Doheny got a lease on Elk Hills oil reserve in California. The sentence was one year in jail and a $100,000 fine.

The United Press was informed today that the last legal move to save Fall of the sentence had been made with the motion for suspension. Fall's fate depends now on Mr. Hoover. Without naming his former cabinet colleague, Mr. Hoover spoke harshly last month of men who had betrayed the trust of President Harding. Mr. Hoover was speaking at the long delayed Marietta O. dedication of the Harding memorial.

MAY BEGIN ON GLASS FACTORY EARLY IN FALL

Construction work on the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company factory in Santa Ana will begin as soon as an investigation being conducted by officials of the company who are in Santa Ana is concluded. It was revealed today by W. G. Watson, who will be the manager of the local plant if certain conditions contingent upon problems involved are solved satisfactorily.

Watson and A. J. Sevin, traffic manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, are today conferring with members of the directory board of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, railroad heads and others in an effort to come to some conclusion regarding freight rates, costs of raw materials, necessary rail connections and satisfactory prices on fuel and raw materials. The two men are authorized to handle these important details by the company, according to a statement made by H. S. Wherrett, president of the company.

"There is no doubt but what construction work will begin at least by the end of September if we receive satisfactory solutions to conditions regarding our location here," Watson declared in an interview with a representative of The Register, "and so far I see no reason why the proposed building program should not be carried out, although of course, it is necessary to have the rail connections to the plant before a definite announcement can be made."

Watson will be in Santa Ana over the week end and stated that he would probably take two or three weeks to conclude the investigation being made in this city. He declared that he had fallen in love with the city and would enjoy living here. He has been manager of several factories for the Pittsburgh company.

Watson declared that the company was not asking any more than was fair in the way of prices on fuel, freight rates and similar items, and that as yet there has not been enough time to come to a definite conclusion regarding obtaining rates that are satisfactory to the company.

RECEIVE FLAGS FOR VETERANS FUNERALS

The arrival of 12 United States burial flags at the Santa Ana post office was announced today by Postmaster Terry Stevenson. These flags were received from the regional office of the veterans' bureau in Los Angeles and are to be used for the purpose of draping coffins of deceased war veterans.

By signing an application blank any one may obtain one of these flags, to be used at the funeral of a United States war veteran, the postmaster stated. Santa Ana, as the county seat, is the distributing point for the flags in Orange county. These flags are made of wool bunting, five feet wide and nine feet long.

HOWARD SAYS NO WARNING TO BE GIVEN

The opinion of Clyde Downing, city attorney, that slot machine operation in Santa Ana is illegal and the announcement of the opinion in The Register is all the warning Santa Ana operators will get, according to a statement made today by Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard.

"No other warning will be given," Howard said, "and when we take action, which will be governed by instructions from the city attorney, it will be done without telling the operators in advance."

Logan Jackson, sheriff, stated that "immediate action" would be taken in the county regarding the operation of the machines. He said that he wanted to have a talk with the district attorney probably today and then he would co-operate in every way in ridding the county of the machines.

MILK... Bottled Energy

If you're fagged out at the end of an ordinary day, blame it on the meals you have eaten. Make sure that you are giving yourself the necessary food elements to build up reserves of strength.

Good, rich milk supplies these vital elements in greater quantity than any other food. That's why busy executives get through more work when they have plenty of milk at noon—and why more workmen drink a quart of milk daily with their lunches.

Here's a test you can make for yourself. Try drinking three glasses of milk a day over a period of several weeks, see if you don't feel healthier, younger, stronger than you have for years!

Every bottle of Raitt's Milk comes from selected farms, and its purity, freshness and wholesomeness are fully safeguarded.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Because true love persists forever you may rejoice in the fact that your life is being inspired and molded by the influence of one who, though now hidden from sight, lives on beyond the grave.

You know full well that much that is worthy of you is the product of the inspiration and help of that one during the days which are gone. You do not really walk alone now for she is ever with you, summoning your best, restraining your worst and ever calling you to be true to the best you know.

Live more deeply into the sense of that guiding, sustaining companionship. In a little while you will be together again.

ATTORNEY SAYS SLOT MACHINES HELD ILLEGAL

In a ringing address packed with fact after fact, and which opened the eyes even of those who have been in close touch with the slot machine campaign here, Attorney W. M. Burke last night piled up an overwhelming case against the gambling devices when he spoke at the huge mass meeting in the Church of the Nazarene.

The bombshell of his entire talk came when he produced a brand new decision by the appellate division of the Los Angeles superior court declaring slot machines not only illegal but also lotteries. The statement came as a complete surprise because, until last night, it had been supposed that no high court in this state had passed on the question.

This decision is the final word, the death knell of slot machines, Burke declared.

"Machines Illegal"

"California has spoken! Slot machines are illegal and they can be prevented from being run. This decision is the law! Burke declared and the tense audience knew that with these words he had announced victory for those who have waged relentless war against the machines in Orange county.

He traced the history of anti-gambling legislation in this state from 1891 when the anti-gambling law was passed. He then showed how a court had decided that slot machines giving cigars had been ruled legal by a superior court. He showed how this decision incensed the legislature and how, in 1911, it "went the full length in attempting to say that any machine in which there is any element of chance or hazard is illegal and should be prohibited."

Thus the legislature, whatever interpretation may have been placed on this law, did all in its power to show the intent to stamp out gambling in every phase, Burke asserted.

Cites Penal Code

He then went further to show that other sections of the penal code made it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $500 or six months in jail for an officer to neglect to inform against or prosecute persons they believe to be violating the law on gambling. But, he said, the law goes even further than that and says that every official who collects money, gives a license or who votes for an ordinance pretending to license or aid in violation of this gambling law, is guilty of a felony and can be sent to the penitentiary.

Offense Under Code

"But," the opinion continues, "assuming the invalidity of the ordinance because of identity of the subject matter, the judgment must, nevertheless, be sustained upon the ground that the complaint states an offense under the penal code."

The opinion then states that the machine was not one of skill but of a gambling nature. An interesting feature of the portion of it which holds that as municipal courts are instituted for the purpose of enforcing municipal ordinances, the municipal court of Los Angeles takes judicial notice of the city ordinances; and that it was not, therefore necessary to introduce the ordinance into the record.

Judge Shaw, in concurring, stated that the verdict of the jury as to the nature of the slot machine.

RESOLUTIONS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED AT GREAT PUBLIC MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

"Believing that it is the business of government to make it easy for people to do right and hard for them to do wrong, we, the citizens of Orange county, assembled in Santa Ana on this 10th day of July, 1931, do hereby commend—

"1. Mr. Ole Hanson for calling to our attention the gambling situation in our county. He has rendered the cause of righteousness and moral decency yeoman service.

"2. The Santa Ana Register and its editor, Mr. J. Frank Burke for calling us together and for the fine discerning manner in which he has led in disseminating the facts and legal opinions relative to this nefarious business. We count ourselves most fortunate in having a paper possessed of such fine moral idealism and progressive attitudes on all questions of public interest and particularly on such moral problems as demand fearlessness and courage in dealing therewith.

"3. Mr. Clyde Downing, our city attorney, for his opinion concerning the legality of operating slot machines, punch boards, and all like gambling devices. The time, the event and the man must fit together to make progress possible. This is the time, gambling is the event and Mr. Downing is the man who has led us to moral victory.

"We rejoice in the concurrence of Mr. Sam Collins, the District Attorney of our county, in this legal pronouncement. We hereby renew our oft-stated pledge of support to all the public officials who are charged with the responsibility of law enforcement and assure them of our high delight in any honest attempt to elevate the moral standards of our cities to the end that Orange County may be a finer and safer place in which to raise boys and girls."

department of the Los Angeles superior court was written by Judge Leon R. Yankwich and concurred in by Presiding Judge Victor R. McLucas and Judge Hartley Shaw. It was rendered in the case of the People versus James A. Ward and Samuel Wellman. They had appealed from their conviction on a charge of possession of a slot machine on the contention that the city ordinance under which they were prosecuted covers acts not prohibited by state law. To this contention the answer of Judge Yankwich was:

"The code does not punish the mere possession of paraphernalia intended to be used in the preparation of a lottery. Actual use is the test. Under the ordinance, on the contrary, conviction may be had, if the paraphernalia be adaptable to lottery purposes, whether it is actually used for that purpose or not. The same distinction exists between the ordinance and section 330a of the Penal Code. That section punishes the possession of a slot machine or card machine, the nature of which is particularly set forth. The ordinance goes further and punishes as a lottery devices intended to be used as such. Under it, a machine adapted for lottery purposes is punishable even if it did not have a slot. The ordinance is, therefore, valid, even if it be assumed that it relates to the same field. There is no intention shown in the Penal Code to cover the whole field exclusively.

"But," the opinion continues, "assuming the invalidity of the ordinance because of identity of the subject matter, the judgment must, nevertheless, be sustained upon the ground that the complaint states an offense under the penal code."

The opinion then states that the machine was not one of skill but of a gambling nature. An interesting feature of the portion of it which holds that as municipal courts are instituted for the purpose of enforcing municipal ordinances, the municipal court of Los Angeles takes judicial notice of the city ordinances; and that it was not, therefore necessary to introduce the ordinance into the record.

TWO BURGLARS CAPTURED IN EARLY MORNING

Vigilance of members of the Orange County Fruit Patrol and the willingness of one self-confessed thief to "double cross" his pal, resulted in the capture, this morning, of two burglars, one an ex-convict and the other an escapee from Praston School of Industry, according to R. H. Sandoz, investigator for the district attorney's office.

Early this morning as officers S. J. Duhart and Fred Swazey of the fruit patrol were cruising along the highway near La Habra they noticed a large roadster whose driver was acting in a suspicious manner. They called to the driver to stop but instead he sped away in the dark. After a chase of more than seven miles the man was captured.

Examination of the machine revealed that three five-gallon cans filled with gasoline, funnels and equipment for draining automobile tanks were hidden in the compartment. Placed under arrest the driver of the car, who gave his name as Eli Jenkins, declared that he knew where a burglary was being committed and would lead the officers to the spot in exchange for his freedom.

Sandoz was called and upon his arrival Jenkins made the same proposition and ended by leading the officers to the service station at the intersection of La Mirada avenue and Whittier boulevard. Sandoz and his deputies preceded Jenkins in his car and Officer Morgan of the La Habra department followed in another.

When Jenkins approached the service station operated by Marvin E. Kirkwood, a man stepped from the shadows and, after stowing a quantity of cigars, cigarettes, candy and chewing gum in the rear, stepped into the machine which again sped away in an effort to escape. Turning up a blind road the machine was overhauled by the police but not until one man had escaped under a fusillade of shots.

Duhart hid in the rear compartment and forced Jenkins to again cruise about the neighborhood until his partner, seeing him alone in the machine stepped into the highway and entered the roadster where he was captured.

Brought to the county jail both men are said to have signed statements admitting the robbery of the service station and the draining gasoline tanks of several tractors and automobiles. Jenkins admitted that he was one of three shotgun bandits who, several months ago, had terrorized Orange county with a series of service station holdups. This band was finally captured and Jenkins sent to Preston from which he had escaped recently.

The other man gave his name as Dave Hammond and admitted that he had just been released from the Oklahoma reformatory where he had served a term for burglary. The car driven by Jenkins was stolen Monday in Long Beach the men said.

They were arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison and bail set at $10,000 each. Their preliminary hearing has been set for July 21.

COUNTY VETS GET EXEMPTION OF $1,977.020

Tax exemptions on property assessed at $1,977,020 have been granted to Orange county veterans in the 1931-1932 assessment, it was revealed today by County Assessor James Sleeper.

While the assessed value of the county as a whole has been falling because of the 10 per cent cut in assessments and the drop in oil property values, exemptions also have taken a slump. Last year they amounted to $2,028,030.

The amount of veterans' exemptions in each incorporated city of the county this year are as follows: Anaheim, $182,895; Brea, $57,100; Fullerton, $157,695; Huntington Beach, $51,700; Laguna Beach, $46,185; La Habra, $48,710; Newport Beach, $45,770; Orange, $105,280; Placentia, $10,020; San Clemente, $81,755; Santa Ana, $503,885; Seal Beach, $14,640; and Tustin, $20,500.

Exemptions are allowed to veterans whose real and personal property is valued at not more than $5000.

SCHOOL EXECUTIVES ATTEND CONFERENCE

George Wells, president of the Santa Ana board of education, recently returned from Berkeley, where with other Santa Ana men, he attended sessions of the superintendents' conference, which was held for school executives following the N. E. A. meetings. Wells attended sessions Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

He reported the conference had been of extreme value to him and that he was particularly interested in the development and use of intelligence tests as outlined by conference speakers.

D. K. Hammond, principal of the Santa Ana high school and junior college; Dr. Percy R. Davis, superintendent of schools, and Lytle Mitchell, principal of the Frances Willard Junior High school, also are attending the conference and will remain until July 17, when it will close.

Eddie Martin Is Proud Owner Of Training Plane

Eddie Martin, owner of the Eddie Martin Airport on South Main street, has purchased a new Curtis-Wright Jr. monoplane, with which he claims he can teach flying in eight hours.

Equipped with a 45-horsepower motor, the plane is capable of landing at 20 miles an hour and will fly 75 miles an hour at cruising speed.

"With the new plane, which can be flown with much less expense than the other ships, persons learning to fly will find that cost of flying has been greatly reduced," Martin said.

Experienced flyers who have flown the new little ship predict that it will soon be in general use throughout the country.

Arrest L. A. Man On Driving Count

George S. Clark, of 2834 South Robert street, Los Angeles, was arrested last night by George Stinson, state traffic officer, on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Clark was said to have been driving his car from one side of the road to the other, north of Anaheim, when he was found by the officer.

He will be arraigned in the Anaheim justice court.

Bidders Are To Make Statements

Hereafter contractors bidding on building work for the Santa Ana school district will be required to submit a financial statement and fill out a standard questionnaire before receiving plans, it was decided yesterday by the board of education in a meeting at the board office.

In the past the questionnaires have been filled out but the motion adopted yesterday will change the situation so that the questionnaire and financial statement must be submitted first instead of with the bids as sometimes has been the case in the past.

BOARD TURNS DOWN LEASE PROPOSITION

Members of the Santa Ana board of education were informed at their meeting yesterday in the board offices at Church and Sycamore streets, that a proposition had been made to lease the old Frances Willard Junior High school grounds for a period of 10 years.

MASTER SWIMMER GIVES POINTERS TO REMEMBER WHILE BATHING IN SURF

Due to the unusual number of drownings which have taken place at Orange county beaches during the past two weeks, Physical Director R. R. Russick of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. has issued a few "helpful hints" for Orange county bathers.

Russick, who has received a Master Swimmers degree believes that a number of the drownings which have occurred could have been prevented if the bathers had not taken undue risks in the water. The following are some of the hints for bathers given by Russick.

"Chief among the reasons for casualties in bathing is the fact that swimmers get in the water immediately after eating whereas one should wait for two hours, at least, before entering the water. Seventy-five per cent of the beach bathers are not strong swimmers and should not go beyond their depth while in the surf. If one does go beyond the breakers he should be able to float with ease and be able to swim with a powerful crawl. At no time should one stay in the water longer than 20 minutes.

Rip Tides
"Rip tides generally can be distinguished by a streak of sandy water. A powerful swimmer may swim at right angles with the current and get himself out of the tide. Otherwise one should float with it until he finds himself in calm water. A person should not attempt to assist another caught in a rip unless he knows life saving methods thoroughly.

EDITOR REGISTER:
Dear Sir:—Will someone explain through the Register why the way times are that the banks have raised the checking account from $50 to $100. Under that a penalty of 50c per month, also five cents per check for all above 10 per month. Does that look like they were trying to help the laboring class to save or relieve them of as much as they can. Other business cannot charge just what they please, why the banks? If a person has say $50, what can he do with it.

VETS' OFFICER TELLS ABOUT COMPENSATION

Many veterans in Orange County have not applied for benefits to which they are entitled under the Adjusted Compensation Act and may apply between now and January 1, 1932, H. D. Edwards, director of Orange county veterans' welfare, pointed out today.

The veterans' officers in commenting on compensation called attention to a recent address in Los Angeles in which Congressman Phil Swing, told his audience that the money to retire adjusted service certificates at maturity was raised shortly after the passage of the bill granting the certificates to the veterans, Edwards reports.

Up to and including June 25, 1931, there have been 65,598 loans made through the Los Angeles office of the Veterans' Bureau, under the amended act, to a value of $26,868,460.32, Edwards said. From the best information obtainable it was found that the funds were used as follows: 75 per cent for the payment of debts and living expenses; 18 per cent for bank deposits and investment; 5 per cent for the purchase of autos, of which 4 per cent were for pleasure; 2 per cent squandered.

This report is based on a study of reports gathered from every community of any consequence in the entire regional territory and given out by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau at Los Angeles, the welfare officer advised.

Members taking part were Fred Strauss, Harry Suters, Howard Irwin, Arlee Mills, J. A. Barker, Herb Sattler and T. P. Taylor.

PREACHING OF THE APOSTLES

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 12. The Preaching of the Apostles, Acts 4:1-14.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist. The golden text for this lesson, "We ought to obey God rather than men," links it up very closely with recent events, particularly with the decision of the supreme court denying American citizenship to Professor D. C. Macintosh of Yale University on the ground that Professor Macintosh would not assert his willingness to fight in a war under every conceivable circumstance in which his country might order him to do so. The ground of Professor Macintosh's conscientious scruples was precisely that of the Apostles in this ancient conflict with authority. Professor Macintosh was not a pacifist in the ordinary sense of the term. He did not take the Quaker position of being unwilling to fight under any circumstances. He had, as a matter of fact, served as a chaplain at the front during the World War. He was willing to act as a good citizen of the United States, and his high character and intelligence assured the fact that he would be a desirable citizen. But there was a point at which he felt a crisis might arise in which if he were ordered to participate in a war that he believed to be unjust, he would feel that he ought to obey God rather than the government.

Attitude Not New We are interested here in the ethical and spiritual aspects of such an attitude rather than in its legal side. But it ought to be pointed out that Professor Macintosh's attitude is not at all new in history. It has been virtually the attitude toward law of the great Baptist body to which Professor Macintosh has belonged, and of various other free Christian groups who have repeatedly in history suffered for conscience sake where they were asked to obey laws that they could not conscientiously obey or to refrain from courses that they felt were a matter of Christian privilege. This was true of the Pilgrim Fathers, who went first of all from England to Holland because of their conflicts with the law in England, and who came to this country seeking to establish a home in America where they could have religious freedom. Such a Christian attitude is not inconsistent with the highest conception of citizenship. It is only, in fact, where citizens have a strict and keen sense of right that there can be in general a high response to duty, and it is only somewhere at that margin line where Christian and non-Christian interests conflict that conscientious scruples would be likely to operate.

However, whatever one thinks of such a case, we are being compelled anew to consider the nature and obligations of the Christian life in much the same way that these early Christians had to consider above all things their duty toward God. Here in our lesson we find the Christian church growing up under adverse conditions of authority. The church is inherently in conflict with the Roman empire because it represents a different principle—a principle of love instead of the principle of force. The church is in conflict with the religious authorities of the time because it represents a free movement of religion in which earnest men are acting according to the dictates of their conscience and not in formal obedience to ecclesiastical authority seeking to impose its will regardless of inherent right.

Under these conditions the Christian church was founded in conviction and courage. Something always happens in the world when men dare to open their minds and hearts to God and then dare to follow in the way in which his spirit leads them. Christianity in its reality was a vital force in the ancient world, and it is always a vital force wherever its reality is brought to bear upon any life or any environment. To assume that Christianity had power to change the ancient world but that it will not affect great changes in our modern world is to disregard either the actual nature of the world or the actual nature of Christianity. The spirit of Christianity lays the supreme stress upon goodness and truth. All that is out of harmony with the plumb-line of righteousness and love represents a disordered world to me brought under the orderly sway of spiritual impulses and facts. To emulate these early Christians is the highest task and privilege for any Christian of today.

"The High Cost of Low Living"

REV. W. C. PARHAM

THE HIGH COST OF LOW LIVING

LUKE 14:28, 33.

If perdition could give up the lost tonight, what pitiful, ghastly stories would be told of men and women who have rejected God. They could give in detail the high cost of low living. If Hickman, Jud Gray, Ruth Snider could stand before us in their misery and remorse, they would indeed warn and exhort people to refrain from breaking the laws of the land and to strive to keep the law of God.

Our lives are bounded by laws. If we break the laws of the land we are punished; if we violate the law of digestion, we suffer; if the farmer violates the laws of nature, he is bound to have a poor crop, and it is a positive fact that if we break the laws of God we WILL SUFFER. We are reminded of the verses found in Galatians 6:7, 8: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Beloved pleasure becomes SIN when we make a god out of it and go to the extreme.

In Daniel, the fifth chapter, we read of Belshazzar having a great supper for his lords and ladies. Many likely said that day, as thousands say today, there is no harm in a little pleasure. That is so; pleasure is all right in its place, but pleasure becomes illegitimate when it makes us forget ourselves, God, His Kingdom, Sunday school, church and church activities. God never intended pleasure to be made a god out of, as it has in this day and age. Many seeming pleasures in this world have doomed more people than anything else because they have carried them to the extreme.

The theater, for instance, is a great gift to portray to the world the thoughts and actions of great men and great artists, but the movie industry has been so changed, so that it might meet the sensational demands of the worldly minded people that it casts an evil spell over many of our young people. Immoral plays are the most popular in some theaters.

A word about the dance hall. They say there is nothing wrong in swaying the body in harmony with music. Maybe not, but bargain-counter stuff is placed on the counter, because it is shopworn and handled, and we have many girls that are shopworn and much handled today. I believe if anyone should know anything about that ministers should and we have talked with scores of beautiful young girls who have taken their first wrong step on the dance floor. They can tell you with bowed heads and tearful eyes the high cost of low living.

A word about the drink habit now. It is the finest wrecking company in the world and it is never found in the construction business. Cinders are burnt-out coals, dumped on the road to fill mud puddles. Drunkards are burnt-out men, no good to themselves or anyone else. The liquor question is becoming serious. The bootlegging industry on the Atlantic coast, as stated by our daily newspapers, is estimated at fifty million dollars, officers of the law now number up in the millions; in other words, every eleventh man in America is an officer, so great is the crime wave. This statement was issued from Washington, D. C.

Why go on with the list? You can figure the rest out for yourselves. Suffice to say, there are thousands hurled into jail weekly, and that is bad; but it is ten thousand times worse to be hurled into eternity without God and without hope. What is the solution? people ask.

A splendid remedy for all this sin and crime, high living and low living, if people would only believe and accept, would be an old-fashioned revival that would sweep the world and bring into their hearts an old-fashioned experience of conversion that would change and transform their lives.

CLUB IN TRIBUTE TO SLAIN MEMBER

SUNSET BEACH, July 11.—The Women's club met Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse with Mrs. L. M. Earl, president of the club, presiding. Mrs. Irene Cawood was hostess of the meeting. The club adopted resolutions of regret for the accidental death of Mrs. Lillis Gilchrist, popular and active member, who was killed two weeks ago while watering the flowers in her front yard when a speeding auto left the highway and plunged into the yard of Mrs. Gilchrist's home, crushing her to death.

Copies of the resolution adopted by the club were ordered sent by the secretary, Mrs. Russell, to the husband and sons of Mrs. Gilchrist. A short business session was held and a social hour enjoyed following the noon luncheon at the clubhouse. Mrs. Earl, the club president, will be hostess to the members at the next meeting, which will be a swimming party held from Mrs. Earl's home on the canal. A luncheon will precede the swim party which will be held August 14.

Evans of Columbia university, filling the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church, Fullerton during the absence of pastor Dr. Graham Hunter, was speaker at the Lions' club luncheon yesterday. Mr. Evans was presented by the program chairman, Dr. Jenn Curtis. Ben Sutton reported on the improvement of the little girl being kept in the Orange county health camp by the Lions of Brea, stating that she is now only about three pounds under weight as compared to an underweight of 12 when she entered the camp in February. Following the plea of Dr. Curtis for support of the Brea free baby clinic, Councilman W. A. Baldwin announced that the city had recently voted to continue its support of the endeavor.

NEWS FROM THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

ORANGE COUNTY MOTORISTS IN SAFETY DRIVE

Orange county motorists believe in safety and are interested in reducing the number of traffic fatalities this year.

This is the opinion expressed by Ed Swift of Goodrich Silvertown, Inc., at Santa Ana, who is enrolling Orange county automobile owners in the Silvertown Safety League, a national organization for the promotion of safer driving.

"By observing ordinary rules of the road and keeping one's car in good mechanical condition, many accidents can be averted," Swift declared.

The nine points embraced in the Silvertown Safety League pledge are based upon observations by the Goodrich Silver Fleet, a group of test cars which traveled one million car miles throughout the United States during the past two years without accident.

Swift announced that 200 automobile owners in this vicinity have already joined the Safety League. Membership consists only of signing the pledge of safer driving. A chromium radiator emblem is given to every member.

VICE PRESIDENT

R. T. Collier, who has recently been made assistant vice president of Shell Service, Inc.

Bob Collier Elevated To Higher Job

R. T. (Bob) Collier has been made assistant vice-president and a director of Shell Service, Inc. It was announced yesterday by W. C. Van Fleet and W. P. Durkee, Jr. Collier's duties will include the direction of advertising and sales promotion, as well as the supervision of operations for 700 service stations on the Pacific coast.

Collier has been for two and a half years an assistant to the manager of five mining operations in Utah and Wyoming for the Carbon Fuel company. He then entered the oil business, taking up geological work. Having a natural sales instinct, he gravitated eventually into sales work and there has found most pronounced success.

In addition to other duties, Collier will have direct charge of the coast-wide advertising campaign soon to be announced by Shell Service, Inc.

GASOLINE SIGN AT SAN PEDRO LARGEST ONE

It is not generally known that one of the largest signs in the world is located on the Pacific coast, but it is nevertheless a fact, the sign being located on a fire wall at San Pedro.

The sign, while only 25 feet high, is 600 feet long, and was put up by the General Petroleum corporation to advertise Violet Ray gasoline. The wall on which it is located surrounds the company's Wilmington shipping terminal.

To those who may not be able to visualize a sign 25 by 600 feet, it may be helpful to know that this sign is visible at sea from a distance of 50 miles at night, it being illuminated by powerful flood lights so as to give 24-hour value in advertising. On land it is visible for a distance of four miles, surroundings which are present on land but absent at sea accounting for the difference in distance from which it may be seen, that is, to the ordinary individual. However, it is visible from such a height as the city hall in Los Angeles, a distance of more than 20 miles.

MAY ACCIDENT REPORTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Accident reports received by the Division of Motor Vehicles for the month of May, 1931, show large increases in the total number of accidents and persons injured. However, the resultant deaths increased less than 10 per cent for the first time since February, 1931.

Reports were received on 2852 accidents involving injury and death. This is 22.88 per cent greater than May, 1930. The number of persons injured in these accidents (4,106) is 31.60 per cent greater than last year, while the deaths, which total 218, increased only 7.89 per cent.

For the first time since August, 1930, the number of persons killed in auto versus auto accidents exceeds the number of pedestrians killed. There were 61 people killed in May auto versus auto accidents and 52 pedestrians. These two types of accidents caused 51.83 per cent of all May motor vehicle deaths.

A total of 4,473 drivers were reported involved in May accidents, of which 3,766, or 84.20 per cent, were males, 595, or 13.30 per cent, females, while the sex of 112 (2.50 per cent) was not stated.

More drivers between the ages of 20-29 years were reported than in any other group. The second largest group was 30-39. The two groups represent 48.07 per cent of all the drivers.

Forty-two drivers were reported to have been "asleep at the wheel" while 214 "had been drinking."

"Violation of right of way" ranked first in the cause of accidents for which the drivers were definitely responsible. "Excessive speed" was second, "drove off the roadway" third, and "driving on the wrong side of the road" fourth. These four causes, all of which are within the control of the drivers, represent 50.88 per cent of the total causes of accidents attributed to the drivers. Three other causes prominent in May accidents were "improper turning," "improper passing" and "slowing down or stopping."

Pedestrians totaling 669 were involved in May accidents of which number 52 were killed and 617 injured. As is usually the case, pedestrian deaths were most numerous among young children and elderly persons. There being only 14 such deaths between the ages of 10 and 29 years.

Most pedestrian accidents occurred at intersections, 247 were injured and 11 killed, while crossing intersections in May, the second largest number of pedestrian accidents occurred in the streets between intersections, with 183 injured and 10 killed. Of the 669 pedestrians injured 22 had been drinking, 3 had physical defects, 42 were confused by traffic, the view of 29 was obstructed, while 62 were reported to have been careless.

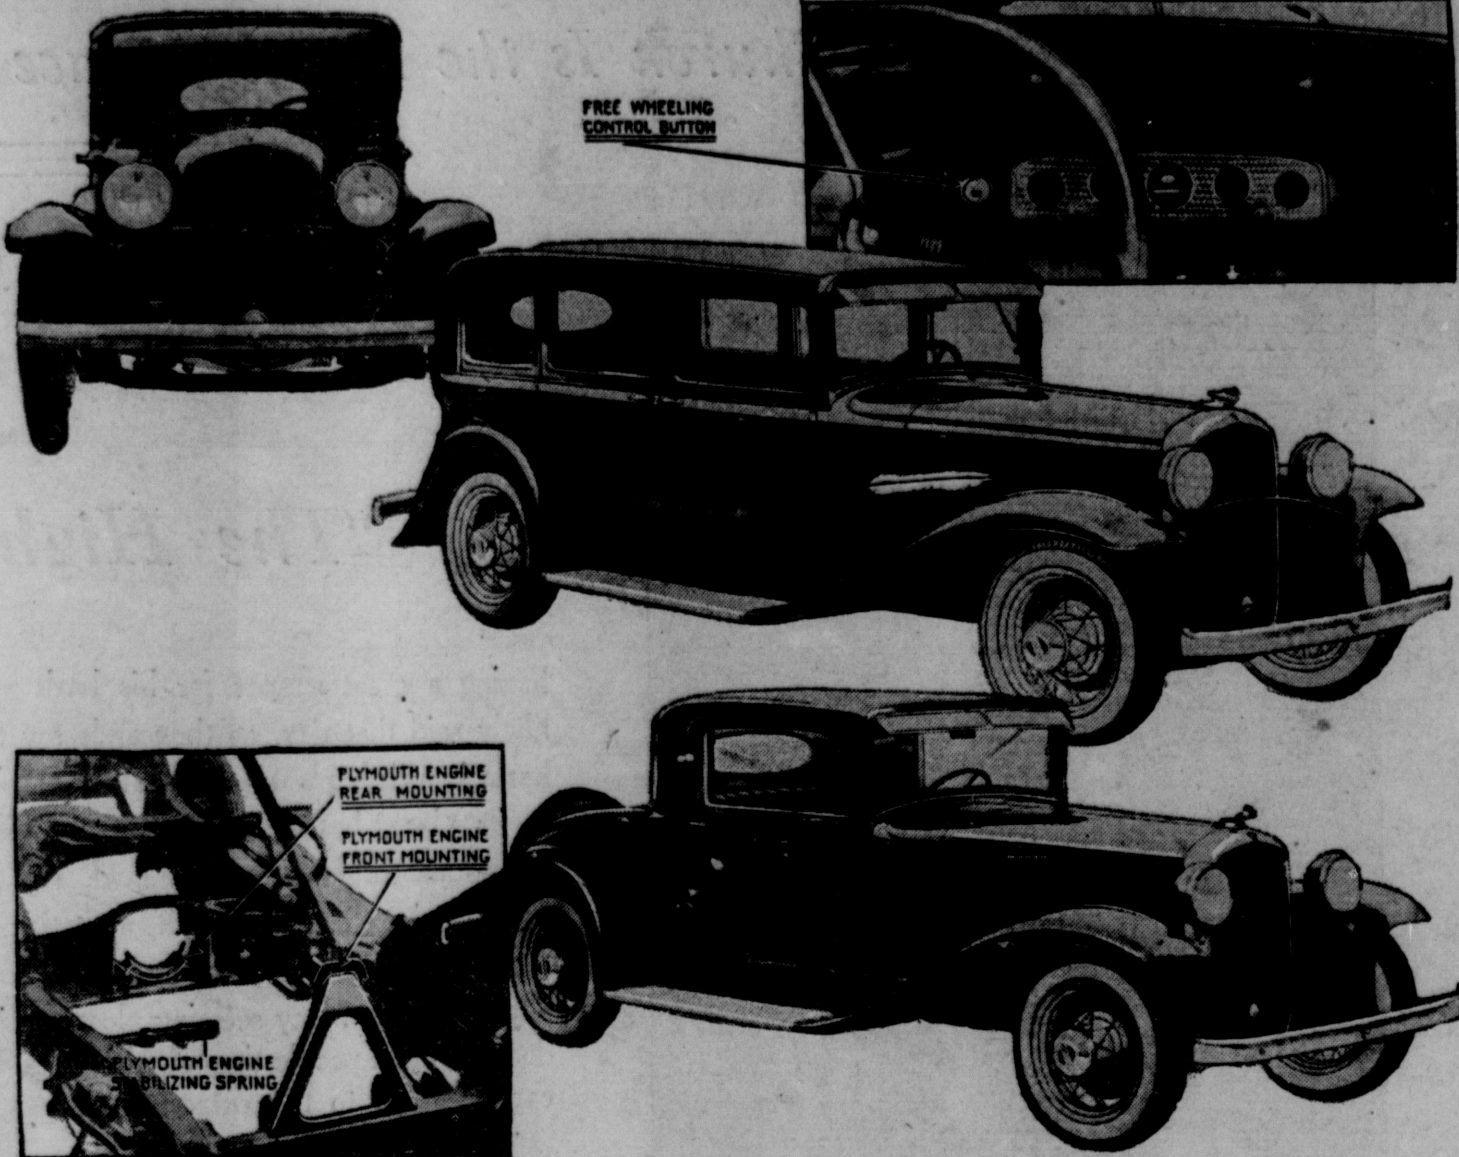

Four thousand, five hundred and sixteen vehicles were reported involved in the 2,852 accidents. Of these vehicles $6.56 per cent were passenger cars. Only 117 were definitely reported to have been defective mechanically.

The peak hour of all accidents during May was from 5:01-6:00 p. m. while the peak hour of fatal accidents only was 7:01-8:00 p. m. More accidents occurred on Sundays than any other day of the week. Saturdays were second in the total number of accidents.

Most May accidents occurred under favorable weather and road conditions, 79.63 per cent of the total accidents occurred during clear weather, while 61.23 per cent of the accidents occurred on dry road surface. Weather conditions were not reported on 341 of the reports, road conditions were not reported on 945 reports.

Accidents for the first five months of this year totaled 13,615 as against 11,814 for the same period of 1930. This is an increase of 1801 accidents, or 15.24 per cent. The total injured during this period increased 19.24 per cent, while the total deaths increased 9.95 per cent over the corresponding period of 1930.

The New Plymouth with Floating Power and Free Wheeling

The new Plymouth retains the economy of a four and adds the smoothness of an eight by "floating" the power plant in the chassis from two rubber supports illustrated in lower left picture above. Selective free wheeling in all forward speeds is controlled by button on dash as shown in upper right hand illustration. Transmission is easy-shift of the constant mesh type. Bodies are safety steel. Brakes are hydraulic internal expanding. Double-drop frame gives low center of gravity. Cars pictured are the four-door sedan and business coupe.

Frisco Cops Add Radio In Police Work

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—One of the most progressive steps ever taken by the San Francisco police department in advancing its activities to combat crime is its new radio system, which is about to be put in operation.

The San Francisco department of electricity, under the direction of Chief Ralph W. Wiley, has just completed the city fire and police broadcasting station in Jefferson square. Each of the Buick cars in the service of the police department is being equipped with a special police radio receiving set constantly tuned in on the wave length of KQED, as the new city radio transmitting station is designated.

The adaptation of radio to automobile police duties has proved so successful in other cities that the installation here is expected to assist materially in the big drive on crime. Distances that formerly had to be traveled from fixed stations will be greatly reduced because of the presence in various areas of the radio-equipped Buicks. In the manner that ships answer the SOS, the nearest police car to the point of trouble will respond to the message sent out from the broadcast station.

The broadcasting station, which operates on a frequency of 2410 kilocycles (124 1/2 meters), is of 400-watt power, sufficient to carry messages clearly to the furthestmost points in the city. As it will transmit on a wave length far below the broadcast of frequencies assigned for public use, the regular radio set such as used in the home will be prevented from picking up messages emanating from the police station.

Receiving sets are being installed in approximately 40 cars in the police and fire departments. These sets are tuned and sealed to the frequency of the transmitter and cannot be changed by the operators of the cars. The only adjustment will be for regulation of volume and for turning the set off and on.

Each car will be equipped with a pair of head receivers so that in case absolute privacy of reception is desired the operator will be able to plug in the head receiver, which cuts off the loudspeaker and prevents the possibility of the message being heard by ears not intended.

DE VAUX DEALERS NUMBER OVER 500

OAKLAND, Calif., July 11.—There are now 577 DeVaux distributors and dealers in the United States and abroad.

This was the announcement made here today by Norman De Vaux, president and general manager of the DeVaux-Hall Motors Corporation, who is now headquartered at the Oakland factory of his organization prior to beginning a swing of the western territory. DeVaux arrived here the other day from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Dodge Brings Mirror Car To Santa Ana

If you see a gorgeous, flame-colored automobile floating serenely down Fourth street, apparently driverless, don't be alarmed! It's the Plymouth "Flame" car.

Every piece of glass in this car is a mirror! The driver—if there is one—cannot be seen! There is no break in the surface of the mirrors—no peep-holes! How does it run? Hundreds are asking this question. The answer is simple, yet it isn't simple. But here's all the information that can be gathered at the present writing.

In order to acquaint local motorists with the new Plymouth, featuring "floating power" and free wheeling the L. D. Coffing company, Dodge-Plymouth distributors, who are displaying the new models, have brought direct from Detroit the strangest illusion in recent months.

Telephonic inquiries to the L. D. Coffing company on the part of literally hundreds of local pedestrians and motorists who have witnessed this mystifying sight as it drives along the streets, have revealed that the illusion is created by the use of an entirely new creation of a famous European manufacturer. Inquirers have been extended an invitation to visit this dealer's showroom and inspect this car.

Those who have accepted the invitation report that the Plymouth "Flame" car's glass equipment is to all appearance bona-fide mirrors. Interested spectators can be seen combing hair and applying powder and rouge in either side of the door and window mirrors.

MANY MEN GET WORK ON ROADS ALL OVER U. S.

BY E. E. DUFFY

Construction work, despite the widespread introduction of machinery, still needs great numbers of workmen and few, if any, of the large industries require as much hand labor. It is estimated that in highway building from one-half to three-fourths of the money goes into the pockets of workmen. It is estimated that about 300,000 men are at work building the nation's roads.

The magnitude of highway building is pointed out in a recent announcement of C. M. Babcock, highway commissioner of Minnesota. Mr. Babcock shows that in creating 284 miles of trunk highway in Minnesota last year it was necessary to ship by freight 24,933 carloads of equipment and material at a total freight cost of $1,477,000. Of the average cost of $23,848 per mile for finished concrete pavement, $5188 was required for freight, not including sand and gravel hauled locally by truck.

This year Mr. Babcock estimates that the concrete paving program of 425 miles will require railroad loadings of 37,400 carloads of paving materials, for which the freight charge will be $2,650,000. In addition to this there will be about 1000 carloads of brick material and about 3000 cars of tile culverts and culvert material for use in grading projects.

Mr. Babcock points out that this business with the railroad means the keeping of a great many railroad men in work this summer who might otherwise be unemployed. At present about 10,000 men are working directly on Minnesota state highway projects, not including the great numbers of men employed in producing and transporting the thousands of carloads of materials.

Practically all states have accelerated highway construction work this year and it is believed that a little later in the summer the effect of this wide disbursement of cash to workmen will be evidenced in business conditions. These large highway programs, however, are being offset in a large degree by the lack of activity in municipal construction. A few cities, however, are taking advantage of present bargain prices in materials and construction by inaugurating programs to municipal improvement construction. Some of these cities are Kansas City, Memphis, Tacoma, Houston, New Orleans, Chicago, Duluth, Rochester and Syracuse.

CADILLAC SETS OWNER SERVICE IN ALL STATES

The Cadillac Motor company of Detroit has inaugurated a nationwide innovation in owner service through a blanket order which will amount to many hundreds of motorcycle vehicles of a new type known as Dispatch-Tow, from the Indian Motorcycle company of Springfield, Mass.

Under the term "residential service," the delivery and retrieving of owners' cars by Cadillac dealers throughout the United States will be speeded up and simplified, according to Cadillac and Indian officials, to a point exceeding any previous service available in the automobile world. By the dealers' use of the Dispatch-Tow, any Cadillac owner may have his car called for wherever it may be and delivered at his place of business, home, club or elsewhere by one man without the expense, inconvenience and delay of present methods which call for the services of two men and an extra car.

The Dispatch-Tow, designed and built by Indian and announced in June, is a three-wheeled vehicle with three-wheel brakes and differential on the rear wheels, allowing it to be operated by anyone who can drive an automobile. It has a commodious box body for tools and spare parts. The Dispatch-Tow for the Cadillac company are being painted Delphine blue with Tokio Ivory lettering and a distinctive standard uniform has been adopted for the operator. It is equipped with a twin-cylinder engine for quick pick-up, easy starting and freedom from stalling. The tow bar is a light type applied at the front hub to avoid strains. It has a hardened lubricated ball joint. In addition to the box body for carrying parts and tools, a seat is available for an extra man, so that two cars may be called for or delivered on one trip of the Dispatch-Tow.

AVERAGE SPEED . . . 70.298 MILES PER HOUR

It seems impossible for a car selling for only $495 f. o. b. Toledo, to smash records previously held by a car selling for almost three times as much...but the Willys Six did it and under the official sanction, supervision and timing of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, Washington, D. C., the only official recognized body with authority to rule on automobile speed records.

The Willys Six Roadster was absolutely stock, carrying full factory equipment, including bumpers and spare tire and using the 43 to one gear ratio. The car was driven by Ed Hughes, a non-professional driver.

Think how easy it is for this car to travel hour after hour at ordinary boulevard speeds and the abundance of power you have at your command. Just get behind the wheel of the New Willys Six yourself...try it out...then think of the price $495 f. o. b. Toledo.

AUBURN SALES DOUBLED OVER JUNE OF 1930

AUBURN, Ind., July 11.—Auburn Automobile company shipped 3205 Auburn and Cord automobiles in June compared with 6717 for the month of May and 950 for June, 1930.

June was an extremely satisfactory month for the company, according to R. H. Faulkner, president, in view of the general conditions and the fact that registrations will exceed the number of shipments by a substantial figure. June shipments bring Auburn production for the calendar year up to 37,660, which is more than twice as many cars as shipped during the entire year of 1930, and 5193 more than the number of cars shipped in the company's peak year of 1929.

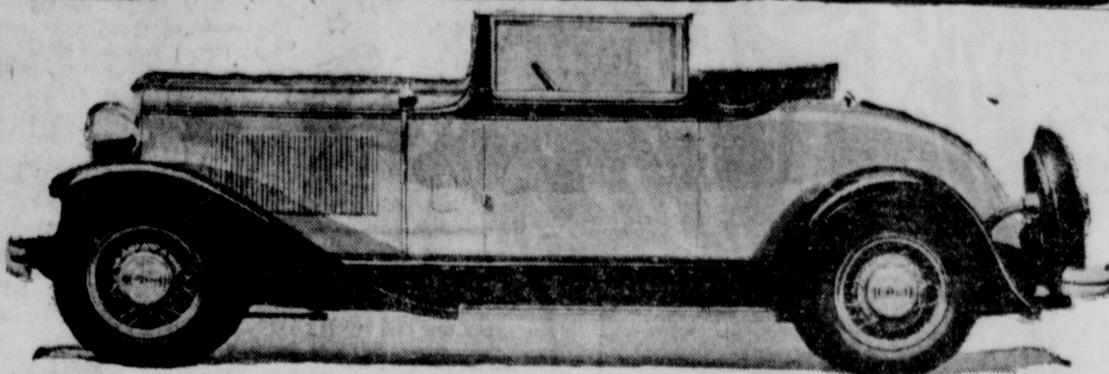

All stocks of cars in distributors' and dealers' hands have been materially reduced, he said, and reports from the field indicate that there is an average inventory amounting to 2 1/4 cars per dealer. During June Auburn added 156 new dealers, which brings the total number of new dealers added since January to more than 800.

SURVEY SHOWS TREND MADE TO GOODYEAR TIRE

In a survey conducted by the School Journal of Los Angeles among teachers of Southern California schools, it was revealed that 47 per cent of all those contacted who own and operate automobiles have their cars equipped with Goodyear tires. Hubert Bown of Motor Tires, Inc., local distributor of Goodyear products, announced today.

"This preference for Goodyear tires is all the more striking," said Bown, "when it is learned that the remaining 53 per cent of the tires used are divided among 12 other companies."

"The survey involved approximately 11,000 teachers and answers were received from more than 8000 of them. Chief among the questions asked were the following:

"FINGERPRINTING" BRUIN

The "Bear Patrol", above, in which troublesome bruins are shanghaied from the public camps to a region below El Capitan, is again coming into use in Yosemite Valley, it is reported to the Automobile Club of Southern California. Here a ranger is "branding" a bear with paint so that he may be known as an unwelcome guest around camps.

Do you own an automobile? What makes car do you own? What kind of tires do you use?

"In conducting the survey," said Mr. Bown, "there was no intention on the part of the school publication to establish any particular product as outstanding, but the predominance of Goodyear tires was so obvious when the returns came in that the business manager of the Journal informed the Los Angeles office of its findings."

In its letter to the Goodyear company at Los Angeles, the School Journal is quoted as follows: "We are pleased to advise that the results in our survey of teacher and school business and purchases indicate that 47 per cent of those owning automobiles use and prefer Goodyear tires. Those used by the remaining 53 per cent were divided among 12 makes."

Bown states that Goodyear preference among Southern California teachers would be an excellent criterion upon which to judge his company's products, even were it not for the fact that 39 per cent of all the drivers in the nation use Goodyear tires.

Operator Reports Automobile Crash

ANAHEIM, July 11.—M. S. Nuttal, 109 West Commonwealth street, Fullerton, yesterday reported an automobile accident to the Anaheim police department that had occurred at the corner of Helena and Center streets the day before at 3 p. m. According to the report, he crashed into a car driven by a woman, whose name was not obtained. No one was injured in the accident. It was reported, although both cars were damaged.

Chromium Plated Spokes for New Graham Models

Polished chromium plated spokes are now regular equipment in all wire-wheel models of the Graham line except the low-priced Prosperity Six. The improved wheel, with its bright spokes flashing against the background of the large brake drums and massive hubs, which in turn are covered with chromium plated hub caps, gives a strikingly lively effect, especially when the car is in motion.

Besides the improvement in appearance, chromium plated spokes have other advantages, chief of which is the ease of cleaning, since oil, mud and dust do not cling to the hard polished surface of the plated spokes. Another advantage is the permanency of the finish.

All Graham models also carry rubber deflector plates, projecting downward in front of the rear wheels at the rear end of the running boards. They shield the hubs and spokes of the rear wheels from gravel and stones thrown to the rear by the front wheels.

NEW HEROES FOR OLD

Tennessee has taken to reading the box scores of games played by the Red Sox and Yankees. The reasons are Earl Webb and William Ben Chapman. Earl is from Ravenscroft, a village in White county, and Ben hails from Nashville.

When Webb first came to the majors he was deemed not good enough. McGraw used him in the outfield four games in 1925, bringing him on from Toledo in mid-summer after deciding that Hack Wilson would look better missing curve balls in Toledo than in New York. The next year McGraw sent him to Louisville.

TURNED BACK AGAIN

The Cubs tried him, and he wasn't quite good enough for them. When he hit .250 in 1928 he was turned over to Los Angeles. Washington drafted him and traded him to Boston in the deal for Bill Barrett. Mr. Webb would look good in a Washington, New York or Chicago uniform right now. He has only been hitting around .370 for the Red Sox and leading the league in two-baggers.

It was a 10-year struggle for Earl Webb to catch on in the big show. But he's there—and Boston goes to Fenway park to watch him play. Chapman is about nine years younger than Webb. Ben won't be 23 until Christmas day. By

STARS CAPTURE RAGGED TUSSELE AT BOWL, 14-7

North Long Beach wondered today whether 7's and 11's were such lucky numbers after all. The National Night League Nomads made 7 runs and 11 hits against Santa Ana in the Bowl last night, but these weren't enough to win because they also made 7 errors and collapsed completely in the 7th inning, allowing the Stars to score 7 runs.

With much less verbiage, Santa Ana won, 14-7.

It was bush league ball all around, and took some of Santa Ana's pioneer night ball players back to City League days. Poly and Lincoln fields when such things were to be expected.

It was in such a mess that "Jumpin' Joe" Cornelius, broad-shouldered hero of Santa Ana's pennant winning club of 1930, was unceremoniously knocked out of the box for one of the few times in his career here. North Long Beach hoped all over him in the fourth inning and when he started the fifth unsteadily, too. Manager George Lackey waved Joe out of there in favor of Earl Morrill who worked smoothly the rest of the route to get credit for the victory when the Stars finally "arrived" in the seventh.

The Nomads had a 6-5 lead after driving Cornelius to cover but scorers and the two Dalesy both to the scoreboard tied the score in the sixth, and then the Stars went out and won the ball game.

Mene was first up in the "lucky seventh" and raced clear to second when Center-fielder Osborn muffed his Texas leaguer. Hill's line drive was too hot for First Baseman Lanthorne and went for a hit, putting Mene on third.

Eddie Boyd, veteran Nomad pitcher, gave way to slim Malcolm Higgins at this juncture and Leavitt Daley ground to Hunter who tried for Mene at the plate without success. Hill going to third and Daley clear to second on the fielder's choice. Ed Daley's single scored Hill, put Brother Leavitt on third, Nelson grounded sharply to scorers and the two Dalesy both raced home when Hunter let it get away from him. Merrill doubled, Nelson stopping at third. Scott walked, filling the bases. Wilcox fanned for the first out but Morrill scorched a single to center that killed Nelson, Merrill and Scott when Higgins allowed the relay to go through him.

If you want to know how the rest of the runs were made, come down to the office sometime and study a scorebook which has seldom dignified such a ragged set-to.

Following their return from Europe, Max, under the direction and encouragement of his new manager, will start his campaign for the title.

RUTH CHANGES HITTING STYLE, LEADS LEAGUE

BY DIXON STEWART

NEW YORK, July 11.—(UP)—Babe Ruth, who for the first time in his major league career is seeking the American league batting leadership in preference to home run honors, is setting a fast pace for his rivals.

With the "dead" ball apparently nullifying his chances of bettering his all time home run record of 60 the Babe no longer is swinging from the heels and instead is satisfied to meet the ball. The change in hitting style has enabled Ruth to pile up a .392 average and he now leads all major league hitters.

Ruth led the American league in batting during the 1924 season although at that time he was more interested in home runs than in batting averages and he won mainly because other hitters were far below their usual averages. Ruth's mark of .378 was the second lowest winning total since 1915.

Ruth's closest competition this season is furnished by Ed Morgan, Cleveland first baseman, who holds the American league runner-up berth with a percentage of .388. Earl Webb, who is making good in the Boston Red Sox outfield after unsuccessful attempts with the Cubs, Giants, Senators and Reds, is next in line with .375 and "Goose" Goslin of St. Louis is four points further in the race.

Virgil Davis, Phillies catcher, has displayed his teammate "Chuck" Klein as the National League leader with a mark of .366. Klein has dropped to .361 but still holds the lion's share of individual offensive honors.

Tuesday's Schedule
Santa Ana at Fullerton; North Long Beach at Westminster; Long Beach at Olive; Whittier at Anaheim; Huntington Beach, bye.

It was the same old story today in the National Night Baseball league.

Anaheim and Santa Ana were fighting for the pennant, seven other teams furnishing the atmosphere.

Anaheim remained atop the standings, undefeated thus far in the second half, by painfully trouncing Huntington Beach, 9 to 0. Santa Ana, the first half champion, stayed on the Valencia's heels by outslugging North Long Beach, 14-7.

And look how hath the mighty fallen! Whittier and Long Beach, ex-champions of the league, are bringing up the rear. The Poets lost their third start in four at Westminster last night, 4-3.

Anaheim's victory over Huntington Beach was clean-cut, decisive. The Oilers never had a chance against "Chico" Sabella's swift, and Howard Morning never had a chance against Anaheim's busy bludgeons. Sabella allowed only four hits. He walked five but got errorless support. Morning fanned 14, but was the victim of opportune hitting, wobbly fielding. The summary:

GARDNER'S DOUBLE GIVES WESTMINSTER WIN

Holding Whittier scoreless after the third inning and with 13 strikeouts by Pitcher Ira DeBusk, Westminster won from Whittier, 4-3. The Aviators bunched 10 hits off Lloyd Johnson, veteran Poet moundman.

Westminster scored in the first on singles by Rodgers and Wilson; in the fourth when Gardner singled, Bowe walked, Davis singled and Hankamer tied to center, and made what proved to be the winning counter in the seventh when Rodgers and DeBusk singled and both scored on Bill Gardner's double.

Whittier got a couple in the second when McDonnell walked and Johnson hit a homer to deep right, and another in the third on Kitt's double and Jertberg's single.

The score:

Long Beach finally came to life, batted Roy Hargis and Bob Jones savagely to lick Fullerton, 14-5. Deane Downer, Acorn flinger, struck out 15. Joe Bell got four hits out of five. So did Sheldon of Fullerton who bagged two doubles and two triples. Jones hit a homer for the losers. The score:

EARNshaw AND GROVE SURE TO WIN 30 GAMES

NEW YORK, July 11.—(UP)—For the first time since 1921 Jim Bagby of the Cleveland Indians turned the trick, two major league hurlers stand better than an even chance to wind up a season with 30 or more victories.

Barring accidents, both "Lefty" Grove and George Earnshaw, pitching aces of the Philadelphia Athletics, are likely to better Bagby's feat of 10 years ago when he turned in 31 triumphs. With two more games to be played before the world champions reach the half-way mark in their 1931 schedule, Grove already has registered 17 victories while Earnshaw has turned in 15.

Connie Mack's two aces, who received little aid except from "Rube" Walberg in carrying the Athletics to world championships in 1929 and 1930, will receive ample opportunity to enter the select group of major league hurlers for thus far this season each has an average of starting one game every four days. Neither Grove nor Earnshaw has displayed any signs of weakening and some baseball experts predict that between them they will turn in 65 victories this season.

Earnshaw is sure to register more than 30 triumphs if he continues the pace he set this week. He has won two games in the last four days.

In his second victory of the week yesterday, he pitched the Athletics to an 8 to 6, fourteen-inning verdict over the New York Yankees. The big right hander, who had pitched a game against Washington Tuesday after one day of rest, relieved Walberg in the seventh inning.

Randolph Bell won his fifth straight city tournament match when he decisively defeated young Lewis Wetherell, 6-1, 6-0, on the Santa Ana high school courts yesterday. Wetherell was no match for the 1930 champion who is heavily favored to successfully defend his title in the current round-robin series.

Eddie West defeated Lecl Slaback, 9-7, 6-3, in another Class A battle. Tom Crawford won from R. H. Martin, 8-6, 3-6, 6-3, in a feature Class B match.

Rival Clubs In Match At Willowick

Golf teams of the Santa Ana and Willowick clubs clash for the first time tomorrow afternoon, with the Willowick course as locale. Play is scheduled to begin at 1 o'clock, with 12 shooters representing each club.

The Santa Ana Country club group, champion of its division in the Southern California Golf association playoffs last winter, was challenged by Willowick, which is undefeated in inter-club competition. Later the two teams will play a return match at the country club.

Golf teams representing the Southern California Edison company and the Southern California Telephone company were playing at Willowick this afternoon.

PICK RICHARDS OVER KOZELUK IN PRO TENNIS

B. MICHAEL J. FOSTER (L. N. S. Sports Writer)

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., July 11.—Karel Kozeluh, famous Czech-Slovakian, who came to the United States two years ago, hailed as the world's greatest tennis player, has found America an unwholesome place for his reputation.

During those two years Vinnie Richards and Bill Tilden have beaten Karel so often that the folks back home in Europe no longer believe he is the No. 1 man of the tennis world, which is like brine on Kozeluh's wounded feelings, for the Czech was mighty proud of his "in-vincibility."

This afternoon at Forest Hills, he'll probably have to eat some more humble pie. He meets Richards for the "seventh time" when they clash in the semi-final round of the National Professional tennis championship, and Vinnie, defending the title he took away from Kozeluh last September, is a strong favorite.

Kozeluh ran into all sorts of trouble yesterday putting Frank Hunter out in the quarter-final round, while Richards was sailing through a straight-set victory over Bobby Sellers. Tilden's youthful fellow-barnstormer.

BLAME KEARNS FOR EPIDEMIC OF RING FOULS

NEW YORK, July 11.—(INS)—Johnny Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, charged today that Jack Kearns, pilot of Mickey Walker, is the man responsible for the wave of low punching and cries of "foul" that swept the boxing game until the New York athletic commission stepped in with its "No Foul" rule.

"Jack Dempsey was a notorious low puncher," said Buckley. "Dempsey used to shoot his left hook low and then cover up this illegal smash by throwing a right hand punch to the head."

"It was Kearns who mapped out this program for Dempsey. The former champion used this punch very effectively. It was what enabled him to win from Sharkey. Dempsey scored at least ten low punches against Sharkey."

"Kearns is already talking about the body attack Walker is going to use against Sharkey. He is merely using this talk as a smoke screen for Mickey to punch low."

"Kearns' chatter about Sharkey being a foul fighter is for the same purpose. He wants the crowd to keep watching Sharkey's punches, while Walker lets his socks drop into foul territory."

"I am going to ask the New York commission instruct the referee of the Sharkey-Walker bout to be on his guard against Kearns' tricks. Sharkey will enter the ring determined to win by a knockout or get knocked out himself. He does not wish to have Kearns spoil a good fight by any of his so-called 'inside' stuff."

ENGLAND, U. S. MEET ON COURTS JULY 17

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 11.—(UP)—Having clinched the match and the right to meet the United States in the inter-zone final, England's tennis team expected to make a clean sweep over Czechoslovakia by taking the final two singles contests today.

The English team assured itself victory yesterday when George Hughes and Fred Perry defeated the Czech doubles combination of Roderick Menzel and F. Marsalek. England had taken the first two singles contests Thursday.

DUFFIELD, S. C. FOOTBALL STAR, IN MAYOR RACE

BY GEORGE H. BEALE (Santa Monica Staff Correspondent)

SANTA MONICA, July 11.—(UP)—This country needs honest, educated politicians, in the opinion of young Marshall Duffield, great quarterback of the University of Southern California, and he hopes to be able to fill this need.

Not yet of voting age, Duffield already has offered himself as a candidate for mayor of Santa Monica. If he is successful in winning the post, he intends to try to establish a third national party. After that, well, he'll write his own ticket.

If people really don't want honest, educated politicians, young Duffield said, and in such a case he'll just wash his hands of the whole affair and leave it for someone else to solve the nation's problems.

"I know I'm biting off a big chew," the blue-eyed blond football star said today. "It's a tremendously ambitious program. People are going to say that I have a lot of crust even to suggest such a program. I'm going to have a try at it, anyway."

"This mayor business is just a starter so far as I'm concerned. I want to organize a third national party. I want it to be young, progressive and liberal."

Duffield's third party would call for educated, trained, honest men in politics. It would demand the abolition of war "or at least an equation in which big business would be forced to suffer along with the young men of the country in event of war."

It would substitute something for prohibition, although not the saloon. Whether Duffield will be mayor of Santa Monica will be decided in the elections November 4, just a year from the time he was working in California and Stanford lines with his dazzling off-track runs. He will not be 21 until September 5.

He is tremendously serious about his political career and his program but he has a sense of humor and his statements lack any element of braggadocio.

"I've always wanted to go in for politics," he said, "and I studied political science at school. I've heard people moaning always for honest men in office and yet many people now tell me I shouldn't run."

"I haven't any idea how I'll make out but one thing is certain, and that is that I won't go into office with a lot of strings attached to me. I don't want any political job if there has to be skulduggery with it. And if the people don't want me that way then I'm not going to worry. I'll go to Stanford university, get a master's degree and settle down to teaching."

Duffield was born in Salt Lake City, but he has lived here for the past 17 years. His scholastic record was excellent at Southern California, so good, in fact, that he was one of six persons who tried out for the four Rhodes scholarships offered for the California-Nevada-Arizona section last winter. U. S. C. gave him a diamond trophy on graduation, distinguishing him as the man in his class who did most for the school.

Duffield starred for three years as quarterback of the Trojan football team.

So far no candidates have entered the mayoralty field against him.

AMERICAN PRO SHOOT 72 IN CANADIAN OPEN

MISSISSAUGA GOLF CLUB

Toronto, Ont., July 11.—(UP)—Hagen, who tentatively retained his leadership in the Canadian Open Golf championship today by scoring a par 72 in the third round.

He had an aggregate of 208, to put him well in the lead after half of the field had completed the third round. The fourth round was to be played this afternoon.

The former British and United States Open champion, without a major title this season, held a on stroke lead as the contestants tee off for the first 18 holes of final play. The remaining 18 holes will be played this afternoon.

Hagen turned in a 68 yesterday.

for an aggregate total of 136 strokes for the two qualifying rounds. It was out in 34 and back with the same card to better par for the Mississauga club course by four strokes.

Trailing Hagen by a stroke was Johnny Farrell of New York, who shot a 68 yesterday. Farrell had 69 for the first round, giving him a score of 137.

Percy Alliss of Berlin, who led the field at the end of the first round, shot a 71 and fell to third place with a total of 138, to be two strokes lower than Tommy Armour of Detroit, defending champion. Armour's score was 68-72-140.

SCHAAF KNOCKS OUT MALONEY IN THIRD

BOSTON, July 11.—(UP)—Ernie SchAAF, Jack Sharkey heavyweight protege, repeated a success of a few weeks ago, knocking out Jim Maloney, Boston veteran, again when they met in a scheduled 10-round bout last night.

Maloney was knocked out the time in the third round, after minutes and 20 seconds of fighting. In their first encounter SchAAF scored a surprising 7 second knockout victory.

SchAAF weighed 205, Maloney 200.

A hard right flush on the jaw, a helpless Maloney ended the bout. Maloney had been floored 7 counts of 9, 3 and 5 immediate preceding the knockout blow.

Bright, of the Los Angeles homicide squad, to look for three young Mexicans driving a small roadster with a dark body and red stripes. The Los Angeles officers stated that when last seen they had been heard to mention, "aranda," the Spanish word for "black."

Wunderlich knows that when the red light in the plaza flashes a warning signal that it may be one chance in a possible million that his presence is needed badly somewhere in the city when he opens the call box under the light he is almost certain that no Orange wife has decided to start her husband across the Styx, by the means of a handy automatic, and that is just as probable that no Orange husband is trying to do away with his wife. Rather, he is quite sure that the blinking red light usually means that a dog on a midnight survey of the neighborhood garbage cans, has tipped one over and startled owners of the cans are convinced that a human prowler is about.

The branches of the palms in the plaza whisper and rustle above the soft dip, dip of the plaza fountain and sometimes there is a splash in the fountain pool as a gold fish finds a new hiding place under the lily pads, heavy with the weight of their sleeping yellow blossoms.

Cars roll swiftly by as Wunderlich watches through the long night. Some of the motorists stop to ask him the way to San Diego, but more of them are swallowed up in the darkness leaving him ignorant of where they may be bound, whether stark tragedy rides beside them or if happiness flies with them on the wings of the wind.

Wunderlich knows all of the houses where restless babies keep heavy-eyed young parents up through the long hours until dawn, he knows where lighted windows mean that death is the visitor expected.

As the stars make their nightly journeys across the skies, the patrolman declares that Orange is teeming with happenings of all sorts which would be interesting in the extreme if only the events in a night history could be learned.

Extra Feature At West Coast Will Be Continued

Although the prices at the Fox West Coast theatre have been cut during the summer months, the added attraction given patrons of the theater at 1 o'clock each Sunday will not be eliminated, according to an announcement made today by Norman Sprowl, Fox theatre manager.

The feature for Sunday will be Loretta Young and Ricardo Cortez in "Too Young To Marry," it was announced. This feature starts at 1 o'clock and for the same admission price, patrons also will see the start of "Chances," first starring picture of Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

The extra feature is a picture that is shown here only the one time, never to be repeated.

Somerset, Granville Davis, Lisa Gora, Wyndham Hall and others.

Approximately 137 aviators and as many mechanics, including almost every stunt flyer and ex-war ace available in America, participated in the sky action of "Hell's Angels," which alone required 18 months to record.

Exactly 87 planes, including 40 true war type ships, both German and Allied, took part in "Hell's Angels."

UNUSUAL WAR PICTURE STARS FAIRBANKS JR.

Man's greatest passions—fighting, love of woman and love of brother—are the basis for the story, "Chances," Douglas Fairbanks' first starring picture, which comes to the Fox West Coast theatre tomorrow for a three-day run.

When prices were reduced at the Fox West Coast house a promise was made the public to the effect that the standard of films would not be reduced—"Chances" proves it.

A well-known nationally read magazine gives "Chances" four stars, the highest rating a picture can get—certainly, it is the best picture that Fairbanks has ever made, aside from being the first that he has made since he was raised to stardom.

It is a war picture, but different from any war picture that has yet been made. It is the first picture to depict the service done by artillery during the war.

The story centers around a young fellow who steals his brother's girl. The war comes and he goes to France. Here he realizes the seriousness of life and, being ever close to death, repents.

Life, romance, war, death, suspense mark the picture throughout, with the ending of the story showing what can happen when man's three passions are all grouped into one.

ANAHEIM TO ENTER FLOAT IN TOURNEY

ANAHEIM, July 11.—The city of Anaheim will be represented in the Tournament of Lights to be staged on the Balboa bay the evening of July 13, it was announced by George Reid, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who is making arrangements for Anaheim's entry in the parade of boats.

The "floating float" that will represent Anaheim will have as the main feature the large dragon that was exhibited representing Anaheim in the Orange County Valencia Orange Show and Fair. The dragon is six and a half feet wide and 39 feet long and has huge jaws operated mechanically. During the orange show the dragon spouted oranges from its mouth but at the Tournament of Lights it will have its eyes lighted and will spout a continuous stream of water from its nostrils. The dragon was built by members of the student body of the Anaheim union high school.

VIC MCLAGLEN PICTURE ENDS S. A. RUN TODAY

"Annabelle's Affairs," the Fox film based on Clare Kummer's hilarious New York stage success, "Good Gracious Annabelle," made an auspicious debut at the Fox West Coast theatre yesterday and was greeted with an overwhelming wave of hearty laughter.

In bringing the play to the screen none of the fine comedy was lost—rather there seems to be an added spontaneity to the ludicrous situations, an added sparkle to the wit in the dialog. And there are just enough heart touching dramatic situations to give the proper coloring and shading to the nonsense in the comedy.

Leading roles were enacted by Victor McLaglen and Jeanette MacDonald and for the first time in his screen career, McLaglen gets the girl. He gave an intelligent and sincere portrayal of the primitive and ignorant miner who marries the girl and later becomes rich and so intriguing that his wife, from whom he has been separated, fails to recognize him and falls in love with him. His transition from the uncouth, illiterate miner to the Beau Brummell is a masterpiece. Miss MacDonald, who first rose to fame in "The Love Parade," is most charming in the role of the madcap girl. The feminine portion of the audience were particularly delighted by the fascinating display of lingerie and the gowns worn by Miss MacDonald throughout the picture.

To Roland Young should be given credit for many of the laughs enjoyed in "Annabelle's Affairs." He has that indefinable knack of squeezing the last laugh out of every situation or line that is possible to be gotten.

"DADDY LONG LEGS" GREATLY LIKED IN S. A.

"Daddy Long Legs," from the great book and stage play by the same name, means just the same in filmdom—romance.

The picture, which is now playing at the Fox Broadway theatre, fairly sparkles with the best kind of entertainment and with Janet Gaynor in the title role of the little orphan girl who loves her benefactor without ever having seen him, the picture is even more alluring.

Much credit for the wonderful picture goes to Warner Baxter, who plays the part of "Daddy Long Legs." He gives a good performance, but at the same time you feel that you would rather see him in a western.

The plot centers around a little orphan girl who is adopted by a rich man who sends her away to school without letting her know who he is. She pictures him as an old man with long legs and dubs him "Daddy Long Legs." Her love for him is intense, human and lasting, but it is not until the end of the film that she knows who he really is, although she meets him under another name and falls in love with him. The ending of the picture brings to a close an hour and a half of sheer entertainment.

MANY OF BEST FILMS OF YEAR TO SHOW HERE

The month of August in the Fox West Coast theatres of Santa Ana is to be known as "Greater Stars" month and some of the biggest pictures that have ever been produced will be seen in both the Fox Broadway and the Fox West Coast houses during the month, according to an announcement made today by Norman Sprowl, Fox theatre manager.

At the same time it was announced that the big stars of filmdom would be seen in their latest shows here during the month.

Some of the best of the bigger pictures that will come to Santa Ana during the month include: "Huckleberry Finn," starring Jackie Coogan; "Richmond's Polly," Geo. Baneroff's new picture; "The American Tragedy," now said to be one of the greatest films of the year; "Politics," starring Polly Moran and Marie Dressler; "Side-walks of New York," Buster Keaton's latest screen work; "Cheri Bibi," starring Lewis Stone and Lila Hyams; "The Modern Age," another modern picture with Joan Crawford; "Young As You Feel," with Will Rogers; "Trans-Atlantic," featuring Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran; "Bad Girl," and "Merely Mary Anne."

With such an array of pictures and such an array of stars, the month of August stands out in the entertainment world here as a banner month.

Many of the pictures booked into Santa Ana out of the above named group will be shown at the Fox West Coast theatre, for 25 cents, according to Sprowl. The larger ones will be seen at the Broadway theatre.

"Patrons of the theatres who have come to the conclusion that no more good pictures are being made will be surprised at the list of pictures we have coming here in August," said Sprowl. "It is true there is not always opportunity to get the cream of the film output for every week in a single theatre, but with this array of stars and pictures, Santa Ana will be put on the map in the entertainment world during the month," he stated.

Bobby Jones' Golf Series Begins Here

When Bobby Jones, ace of all golfers hung up his clubs for the last time, he went straight to Hollywood where he made a series of golf pictures. These will start at the Fox Broadway theater on July 16, it was announced today by Norman Sprowl, Fox theatre manager.

Returns from fans throughout the country who have seen the pictures, or some of them, have been highly enthusiastic regarding Bobby as an actor, and real golf learned through the talking screen and the methods shown by Jones in his golf series.

The first of the series to be shown here is called "The Putter" in which Jones shows how putting is made the real factor in winning tournaments.
